General Reassessment Briefing – FY 2022 – 2023

Susan Lower, Director, Real Estate Valuation, provided an overview of the FY 2022 – 2023 Real Estate Assessment Projections and highlighted the following topics:

- FY 2023 Real Estate Assessment Projections
- Assessment History by Fiscal Year
- New Construction History by Fiscal Year
- History of Residential Sales and Foreclosures
- Median Residential Sales Price 2011 to 2021
- In Summary
- Projected Real Estate Fiscal Impact
- Appealing an Assessment
- Tax Relief Programs
- Questions & Comments
- Appendix
- Timeline of Assessment Process
- Tax Relief and Abatement Programs
- History of Sales Ratio
- History of Roanoke's Assessment Changes

(For full text, see copy presentation on file in the City Clerk's Office.)

Ms. Lower advised the assessed value of real estate grew 7.65 percent, and advised that the total value of taxable real estate jumped last year to a degree not seen in 15 years.

Ms. Lower reported the median residential sales price in the City reached $175,000 in 2021, up from $165,300 in 2020, and $150,000 in 2019. She forecasted approximately $5 million more funds for city services during the fiscal year. She added city staff examined projections neighborhood by neighborhood adding 7.28 percent to the total property value, and new construction added 0.37 percent, for a total increase of 7.65 percent.

The City Manager pointed out when revenues increase, it benefited the services the City provided and City Schools, as well.

Ms. Lower further stated that if the property owner does not agree with the appeal decision, they may appeal to the Board of Equalization; and then file suit in Circuit Court. She also advised veterans, the elderly, and citizens with disabilities could apply to receive tax relief.

Ms. Lower concluded that the Office of Real Estate Valuation mailed notices of changes to 90 percent of the city's residents; and advised citizens could appeal their assessment to the Office of Real Estate Valuation by February 1, 2022. She said the new assessment would take effect July 1 and Real Estate installment of tax bills were due in October.

Following inquiries from Vice-Mayor White-Boyd, Council Member Moon Reynolds and Council Member Cobb, Mayor Lea thanked Ms. Lower for the update and advised that the presentation would be received and filed.
